

First Named Inventor: Thomas W. BAKKER

Application No.:

-2-

---

ABSTRACT

a1 A tube (1) in a borehole (2) in the ground (3) is displaced. The tube is simultaneously displaced along and about its axis, such that it is axially introduced into or retracted from the borehole. According to the invention, displacing the composed tube about its axis comprises an oscillating movement. The invention further relates to a device for displacing a tube in a borehole.

---